62. There has never been perfect happiness. The perfect status of human beings doesn't exist. Whatever else happiness may be, it lies neither in possession nor achievement, but in the pursuing process. We should always keep in mind that we're not born to enjoy happiness, but to strive for it. Happiness lies in pursuing itself, and in the meaningful things that we struggle our lives for, from which we obtain enlightenment. That is to say, happiness lies in the process of pursuing.

When I was a little girl, my brother and I went every New Year to stay with grandma and grandpa in their mysteriously old cottage by $\wedge$ sea. Like many other houses in the village it was rumoured to be haunted. One particular evening, a couple of day before New Year's Eve, the house was bitterly cold and rather gloomy because it had been snowing heavy all day. All of us were sitting around the fire in the living room listen to one of grandma's favourite stories, when suddenly there was a very big crash from upstairs above. All our thoughts turned to the ghost she had been telling us with and we looked at each other in horror. When we rush up the stairs, however, we discovered that the branch of a tree had snapped in the wind and broke one of the bedroom windows into pieces. I'll always remember the expression on grandma face. "I've never been so scared in all my life! " was all she could whisper.

Part I Listening Comprehension (35 marks)

Section A (15 marks)

In this section, you will hear two conversations. Each conversation will be read only once. At the end of each conversation, there will be a one-minute pause.

Listen to each conversation. Then read the four choices marked A, B, C and D, and decide which is the best answer according to what you hear. Then mark the corresponding letter on the answer sheet with a single line through the centre.

Conversation One (5 marks)

W: Hello. May I help you?

M: Hello. Is this the right place for me to register to learn foreign languages?

W: Yes, it is. May I have your name, please?

M: Geoff Thompson. And my family name is Thompson.

W: Geoff Thompson. Okay. Do you have a telephone number?

M: Yeah. 9092467.

W: Thank you. Now, which language would you like to learn? We offer French, Italian, Japanese, Spanish and Portuguese.

M: Ah. I'd like to learn Spanish, please.

W: Okay. Our classes are conducted in lots of different places. We have classrooms in the city and here in this building ...

M: What's this building called?

W: This building is Building A.

M: I work near here, so it'd be best to study in Building A.

W: What time do you want to come to lessons? They go on for three hours, and they start at 10:00 am, 4:00 pm and 6:00 pm.

M: I would like to come to the daytime lessons but I can't, so 6:00 pm, please.

W: That's our most popular time, of course. Umm. Have you ever learned Spanish before?

M: No, I haven't.

W: We describe our classes by level and number. Your class is called "Elementary One".

M: Okay. When will classes start?

W: Elementary One begins—ah—just a minute—ah—it begins on August 10th.

M: Thank you very much. Bye-bye.

Conversation Two (10 marks)

M: Good evening and welcome to Our World. Tonight's guest is the explorer Sally Brendle. Sally, you've been on expeditions to some of the most unspoilt forests on the planet. What is it like?

W: Fantastic. There's nothing better than being the first scientist to see a particular river, for example, or to find a new plant or animal. On my most recent trip, we were looking for a rare crocodile in a rainforest in Asia but we discovered a previously unknown snake. Although it was tiny and completely harmless, it was still very exciting.

M: It sounds it! So, tell us about your early life. How did you become an explorer?

W: Well, I've been interested in nature ever since I was a young child. While my friends were playing games, I used to go fishing or looking for animals in the fields near my home. I wasn't interested in protecting creatures in those days. In fact, I used to catch them to put them in my own little zoo!

M: And what was your first expedition?

W: As soon as I was eighteen, I went to Africa with an organisation called Africa Exchange. They run different projects. Things like helping to build schools or studying how monkeys behave. My job was to count how many lions and elephants there were in a certain area every day. That was a fantastic introduction, and really important for the protection programme.

M: And what did you do after that?

W: While I was at university I met a famous Brazilian explorer. He was planning an expedition to the Amazon rainforest in order to study the plants that people use for medicine. A team member broke her leg so he asked me to go in her place.

M: Can you describe what it's like to be in a rainforest?

W: Well, the thing I always notice is the atmosphere. Although it's not silent, the noises are all nature, which I find very relaxing. Despite the heat and the wildlife, it's quite safe if you're careful. Modern technology means you can't really get lost nowadays.

M: Well, it sounds really interesting.

Section B (10 marks)

Then mark the corresponding letter on the answer sheet with a single line through the centre.*

In this section, you will hear one monologue. The monologue will be read twice. After listening, answer the questions using no more than five words. Write the answers on the answer sheet.

Dear Editor, this is David Spaulding. I read with great interest the article in your paper yesterday about the growing traffic problems in our region and how the planned construction work on a new Millers River Bridge will exacerbate the problem over the coming months. Proponents of building a new bridge, which is scheduled to begin next month and be completed within two years, claim that it will greatly alleviate the traffic problem in that part of the city once it is completed. In my opinion, that solution will be temporary at best. Allow me to propose another idea. For the past four years, a group of city planners, transportation experts, and others have been hard at work on a plan for a light rail system to serve our region. Of course, construction of a region-wide light rail train system would require a far greater investment than construction of a bridge, but it would serve a far larger percentage of our population and the effects on our traffic problems would be far-reaching and permanent. As discussed in yesterday's article, the new, bigger Miller River Bridge will carry more traffic than the old one, serving one small part of the city. The bridge has been artistically designed and will add beauty to our city landscape. These are small returns, in my opinion, for the expense city taxpayers will incur for the bridge construction. Clearly, investment in a regional light rail system is a better idea for our future.

This is the end of the listening part. Please transfer your answers to the answer sheet.
