66. 旧金山见证了中美两国人民 100 多年交往的历史。158 年前,大批中国工人一路来到美国,修建第一条连接横贯美国的铁路,在旧金山建起了西半球最早的唐人街。从这里出发,中美两国取得了很多成就:每年 7600 亿美元双边贸易,累计 2600 多亿美元双向投资,284 对友好省州和姐妹城市关系,高峰时每周 300 多个航班和每年 500 多万人次相互往来。这是全世界近四分之一人口共同成就的非凡业绩。

Section B (10 marks)

67. Do you know how a new virus got its name? When a disease breaks out, people focus on the public health response and the official naming of a new virus is often delayed. But that may lead to many problems. The most obvious one is that different media organizations may use different names for the same virus in their reports. As we have entered the Internet era, information and news can spread to every household in seconds. This means different names can take hold quickly and be hard to take back, which may confuse those who know little about the virus.

Part VII Error Correction (10 marks)

A job interview is your chance to make a good impression on a potential employee, and the way you dress is an important part of the impression you make. It is not an occasion to show how fashionable you can dress. Rather, it is time to present yourself as a serious professional who convey a sense of confidence. The colours you wear help to give this impression. Choose dark colours such as black, navy blue, or charcoal gray, and stay away  $\wedge$  warm browns and greens. In addition to a dark colour, the suit you wear should have a conservative neatly tailored cut. Don't forget to pay attention to detail. Your accessories are an important part of your overall look. For men this means wear ties with simple patterns and quiet colours. Also, men should not wear any type of jewelry, even of the high quality gold or silver, except for a wristwatch or tie clip. Women should wear plain earring. Matching necklaces or bracelets are permissible as long as they are not gaudy or aloud. Finally, make sure your feet are dressed as well as the rest of you. Avoid any kind of fancy footwear. Your footwear should look neat and fits you comfortably. You may think that no one will look at your feet, but if you wear super-high heels, garish buckles, or bright colours on your shoes, you are calling attention to them in a way you don't want it.
